THE GROCERY SHOPS .- There are four hundred and twenty retail groceries in the city. Until a few weeks ago, the license of a retail grocery in Anderson, S. C., was $500, which source of revenue the town has magnanimously cut off by pro-hibiting, from the 13th of September last, all sales of spirituous liquors.

NAPOLEON BONAPARTE, a negro lad about three and a half feet high, made an assault, last night, upon a negro dwarf named Sam Mitchell, but better known as "July." "July" drew a single barrel pistol and snapped it twice at his opponent, but as the pistol was not loaded, he lived to be arrested by a policeman, and is now in the Guardhouse awaiting an examination before the Mayor

A. BURGLAR CAUGHT.—A progreg named Hampton Morgan, who is believed to know as given about Charleston as is necessary for a burging to be accurated with—i. c., the inside of several houses and the full—has been sentenced to twelve month's hard labor by an Adgusts magherate for forcing his way through the window of the resi-dence of a widow inty, Mrs. Hampton, on Telfair street; and stealing several articles of br ding street; and stealing several articles of br ding and wearing apparel. The missing goods were found in his house, rogether with a handsome tollet case and silver powder box, which he ac-knowledged to have noten from another lady in the city, entering her house last Suday night in the same manner as he did that of Mrs. Hampton.

THE RECENT MUNDER-THE ACCUSED COMMIT-TEO TO JAIL.—There was more testimony heard before Coroner Whiting yesterday, relative to the murder of Dick Richards, colored, whose mutilated body was found floating of the Battery on last Sunday week.

Malyinia Richards, colored, testified that she recognized the body of the deceased as that of the insbands blok Richards, and testified as follows: We lived in St. Andrew's Parhistonuisday week, on a flat loaded with wood, with Friday and Anthony Nixon, and that was the last I saw of him alive; I was present at the disinterment and recognized him; I know not of any quarrel between my husband and the Nixons; which the Kixons returned from the city they told me that my husband had been drowned; that while he was at Bigelow's store, he said that he intended to cat a hearty meal, for fear that he would never eat again;" that my husband was at the contended to the Guardhouse and the helm of the boat when crossing the contended to the Guardhouse and locked up. The woman who was at the contended to the contended to the contended to the Guardhouse and locked up. The woman who was at the contended to the c "the helm of the boat when crossing the last channel going to the city, and he cried out that he was unable to steer the boat. Friday then weut to the helm, and deceased crossed his hands and jumped overboard, and was drowned.". The testimony of the other witnesses showed that on last Thursday week the accused, Friday and Anthony Nixon, and the deceased started to Charleston on a flat laden with wood. About sundown the text evening they had gotten as far as Elliott's Cut. on James 1 as Elliott's Cut, on James' Island, and concluded to lay to. While attempting to make their way to the shore they were quarreling, which was heard by parties on the shore. On fastening to the shore one of the accused borrowed an axe from Jane Smith for the purpose, as he alleged, of cutting wood to make a fire. The accessed was observed moving about with them until dark. After the fire was make, a son of Jane Smith went down to the beat. When her wanned to his mother, he stated that two of the men were alting arcund the fire, and the other was laying down in the dat "like he was asken! down in the flat "like he was asleep." Previous to this the axe had been re. turned and been laid away. (Since then it has been examined and found to be bloody.)

About eleven o'clock Friday night the flat started for the city. The next morning the accused were observed upon James Island by some parties who had seen them the evening before, to whom they stated that about three o'clock A. M. their nat had been swamped while crossing the Ashley, but the deceased, just before the occurrence, Jumped overhoard and was drowned.

The acquised were examined before the Goroner yesterday. They stated that while off chisolm's Mill, about three o'clock, Saturday ragning, their flat swamped and the deceased was drowned. After the negroes gave their statements, they were formally committed to jail to await trial before the State court. The testimeny against them is very strong—almost conclusively proving that they murdered the deceased, while in the Cut, with the axe they borrowed, and afterward threw

THE STRIKE ON THE WHARVES.

The Longshoremen Attempt to Throw i White Man Overboard-They also Throw Bricks at the Men who will

The strike of the members of the Longshore men's Protective Union Association, which com-menced on last Friday, because their employers would not accede to their demand that they should only work from seven o'clock in the morning to five o'clock in the evening, and receive for those ten hour's work two dollars and a half, and still continues. The moderation which marked their conduct at first has given place to violence and lawlessness, which, if not speedily checked will end in bloodshed.

On Friday, soon after the strike commenced, Messrs. Ravenel, Bowen and E. W. Marshall called upon the Mayor and stated that the strikers were interfering with the white men engaged at work upon the vessels. The Mayor promised to send policemen to protect the workmen. Accordingly a few policemen were sent, and there was no further interference that day.

Late Friday afternoon one of the stevedores uployed to unload the steamship Charleston, of the Charleston and New York Steamship Ling. stated to a committee of the strikers that he was willing to employ twenty of them at $250 per day, if they would work with the men already employed, and from seven o'clock' A. M. to six o'clock P. M., and receive forty cents per hour after six o'clock. They, after consultation, refused to accede to this proposition, but the next morning signified their willingness to work upon the conditions proposed. Twenty men were selected from the large number of strikers present, and were sent into the hold of the steamship. They had scarcely commenced work when a me He delivered his message, and they immediately ceased work and left the vessel.

At an early hour yesterday morning the strivers were on the wharves where the steamships lay, about nearly all of which white men, in addition They, by persuasions and threats, succeeded i inducing the laborers to stop work at all of the steamships excepting the Charleston. Here, shout 8 o'clock, a very large number of the strikers, assembled, thirty or forty of whom went upon the wharf and interfered with the work men, using all methods excepting force to make them desist. A white man, being worried beyond endurance by these negroes, ordered them to keep away from him. They attempted to seize him, but he resisted until overpowered. Four of them caught hold of him, and in response to the cries of the excited crowd to drown him, were upon the point of throwing him overboard, and would have done so, but for Mr. Easterby and other gentlemen who came up. The police were then called upon, and they came and cleared the wharf of the negroes. During this struggle the white man received a painful wound in the hand and was severely bruised in various portions of the body. After this affair the negroes left, the

Everything along the wharves remained quiet until dark, when the white men and colored men, not members of the "union," who had been working, "knocked off work" to go to supper. On their way to and from the wharf they were assailed by the strikers, who threw bricks and rocks at them -the missiles which struck these men fortunate ly indicting only slight bruises. The Chief of Police was notified of this affair and sent a small squad of police down, when the negroes became quiet. We heard of no arrest.

We learn that the Baltimore Steamship Con pany employed the longshoremen yesterday to load the steamship Sea Gull, at the rates demanded. It is also stated that the Charleston and New York Steamship Line have employed forty white men in New York, who will arrive here in a few days, and hereafter will load and unload all of the bload support the time.

DON'T LEAVE YET .- We do not see any occasion for the excessive alarm which prevails among many of our citizens relative to the waye which is expected to make its appearance to-day or to-morrow, yet our telegrams from the North show that the tides are unusually high and are doing considerable damage. Those of our merchants who have moved their goods out of the lower to the upper stories have taken a wise step, as it is very probable that we will have an unsually high tide, and, if so, all goods in the lower stories of the buildings near the wharves would be in danger of suffering much damage from water. An ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure, but it is not necessary just yet for the women and children to go to

Wife.—On last Saturday morning Captain Hen-dricks, Chief of Police, received a telegram from Colonel Geo: F. Egbert, Chief of Police of Richmond, Va., telling him to arrest Thos. J. Perdue who in company with, a woman would probabl arrive in Charleston that afternoon. At 4: o'clock locked up. The woman who was with him went to a private boarding house. Colonel Egbert was notified of the arrest of Perdue, and fele graphed Captain Hendricks to hold him until his arrival, stating that he was charged with felony. Colonel E. was expected to arrive here yesterday

Perdue says that the woman who came with him is twenty-six years of age, pretty, and the wife of Mr. Scrugge, of Manchester, Virginia. That he has a wife and two children, but while she was absent he took the opportunity to elope with this woman. Perdue says further that he does not know why he was arrested; he had done nothing wrong unless running away from home without paying his debts could be considered such. He is an ugly-looking customer.

The Richmond papers in commenting upon the elopement of Perdue, who married a sister of the that the usual monotony of Manchester life was broken on Saturday by a report of the elopement of Mrs. Henrietta Scruggs, wife of James Scruggs, of that place, with Mr. Thomas J. Terdue, himself a married man. For some months Madame Ru mor has coupled the name of the two in a mar ner by no means creditable. About one month ago Mrs. Scruggs left this place for her father's, n Powhatan. About the same time Mrs. Perdu who is a sister of Mr. Scruggs, went to her fat er's in Pittsylvania. On Thursday Mr. Scruggs received a letter from his wife stating that she was going to Petersburg to see some friends, and would return home on Saturday. On Frider Mrs. Scruggs and Perdue were seen on the morning train from Petersburg. They got off at Chester. That evening, fearing detection, they returned to Petersburg and bought thekets for Charleston, S. C. The Chief of Polico there has been telegraphed to, and will doubtless overhaul them. Mr. Beruggs alleges that his wife carried away about any dollars in money and a lot of his cloth-

This event has created no little excitoment in the usually quiet and very moral lattings of Man-chester, and great hopes are entertained that the guilty one, who has brought desolation on two peaceful homes, way be arrested and dealt with as his orimes demand.

It is believed that Perdue sent his wife away in order to perfect his plans for this elepement, and that he had been in correspondence with Mrs. Scruggs ever since her absence.

THE DRAMATIC SEASON Was opened last night at Hibernian Hall quite auspiciously. The house, though not crowded, was well filled and every ody was pleased with the great improvement which have been made in the stage and Ifa.apmatic purposes. The removal of the side doors has given a very respectable width to the stage front, and the footlights, heretofore an unsightly obstruction to the view, have been countersun and hidden from the sight of the audience scenery is altogether new, and exceedingly handome as compared with the wretched daubs which last winter formed the background to every performance; and the proscenium decorations constitute a rich frame-work for the mellor hues of the Italian water-view which forms the drop curtain. Altogether the new stage arrangements are very satisfactory, and reflect infinite credit on the committee of gentlemen who had them.in charge. The committee, we believe, consisted of the President, Secretary and Treasurer of the Hibernian Society, with the Chalrman of the Finance Committee.

The piece presented was Taylor's sensational drama, "The Ticket-of-Leave Man," and passed off smoothly enough. Whatever the shortco an improvement upon the theatricals heretofor given us, that we feel little disposed to be criti-cal. Miss Raymond, as usual, was the "enfant terrible," and plays the part of Sam Willoughby with evident gusto. Mr. Réad, as Brierly, at times carried his Yorkshire dialect altogether beyoud the point of intelligibility. Miss Levering, as Mary Edwards, created a pleasant impression, though her acting often lacks spirit. Mr. Brown was only moderately successful as Dalton. Mrs. Lawrence, as Mrs Willoughby, and Mr. Collins as Hawkshaw, played their respective parts al-most as well as could be desired. The orchestra was composed of ten pieces and gave very fair

To-night we are to have the highly sensational play of "East Lynne," dramatized from the novel of the same name.
